Education Fair – Cameroon Tour 2019

Information

This international education and career fair that bring together leading educators and top employers to showcase, network, recruit and create sustainable partnerships. The fair is also dedicated to helping universities and companies recruit prospective students and skilled professionals across Africa.

Our fairs are open to all universities and companies worldwide, helping them meet and recruit from a wide pool of screened, quality and potential students as well as skilled professionals. Unlike other fairs or exhibitions that only focuses on recruiters from a specific country, thereby attracting a limited pool of students and skilled professionals, OPUVIA FAIR attracts recruiters from across the globe, taking off every limitation.

Our venues are carefully selected to suit the international standards of recruitment and exhibition events. Our fairs, which always run for a day per venue, are open to all institutions and companies worldwide.

This fair draws larger pool of students and skilled professionals by giving them several options to fit their prices, applications, locations, courses of interest and job requirements. Students and Skilled professionals are encouraged to come with all necessary documents so they can apply for studies or job positions on the spot.

The population of Cameroon is predominantly comprised of youths, indicating that the future is promising. But more appealing is the fact that the adult literacy rate continues to witness a steady increase. From 41.2% in 1976 to 75% in 2015. Since then, it has been on the rise at about 18.84% annually. Of course, this implies that every year, the nation's educational system continues to send trained individuals into the world. In 2015, Cameroon became the leading economy in the Central African Economic and Monetary Community (CEMAC) after IMF estimated her GDP at $29 Billion (exchange rates adjusted). This clearly portrays a robust and growing economy. One your business or company should take advantage of. While some of these intellectuals' scout for jobs, others continue to seek out ways to further their education, especially abroad. Nevertheless, many are still unsuccessful because of the difficulties they encounter when searching for persons with the right information. The Cameroon Tour 2019 organized by OPUVIA FAIR gives institutions the opportunity to meet and recruit well-screened leads. Although the nation holds great potentials for international institutions, educators and businesses, the level of competition in these industries; education and career, is surprisingly one of the lowest in central Africa. In a way, you could say Cameroon is a gold mine with only about 25% of its potentials exploited. It is the perfect nation in which your institution or business should make connections, establish branches, recruit students and skilled professionals for years to come. But the time to engage is now and OPUVIA FAIR through the Cameroon Tour 2019 has put together the perfect meeting point to initiate these connections. The company itself has a track record of organizing two past successful fairs in Cameroon which brought together 5000 attendees, over 30 exhibitors backed by more than 11 sponsors.

Cameroon Tour 2019 is backed and supported by the Prime Minister's Office of the Republic of Cameroon, which looks forward to have face-to-face audience with our local and international exhibitors, also in partnership with the Ministry of Secondary Education, Ministry of Higher Education, Ministry of Employment & Vocational Training, Ministry of Youth Affairs & Empowerment and Ministry of External Relations all in a bid to make international student mobility a success.

Indonesia - International Education Tour Spring

Information

This is an annual Education Exhibition for institutions that aims to be the gateway for institutions around the world to directly meet Indonesian students who are seeking to further their higher education. The fair is in its seventh annual event and is the country's most universal education exhibition with institutions from over 20 countries participating.

More than 10,000 students from over 150 national high schools and universities across four cities attend. To provide better services to schools and universities, the fair will be providing bus pick-ups for free for the students to and from the expo venue.

Every year, tens of thousands of Indonesia's students choose to study abroad - and this number continues to rise alongside a growing middle class. This interest has largely been made possible as students continue to become more fluent in English and other secondary languages. In light of this phenomenon, this fair serves as a gateway for students and parents to gain more information on the opportunities of overseas education.

The fair guarantees a minimum audience of 10,000 students from over 100 national high schools in Jakarta. As an event that is endorsed by the Ministry of Education and there is cooperation with high schools and provisioned scheduled bus pick-ups for free. Beyond the 10,000 guaranteed participants from high schools, it is expected that even more students come as we utilise an extensive promotional campaign that spans across various channels - including TV, billboard, radio, print, and online. This will be the largest overseas education exhibition in Indonesia!

International Education India EXPO Roadshow-Spring 2019

Information

The India EXPO Roadshow offers international education institutions, of any discipline and from any country, the opportunity to present their courses to thousands of pre-selected and pre-screened students in India and Sri Lanka's most productive markets during their leading International Student Recruitment Fairs.

Market Overview

Often regarded as easy-to-penetrate markets, India and Sri Lanka form the cornerstone of many educational institution's international student intake. With almost 200,000 Indian and Sri Lankan students currently studying abroad - a number that seemingly has no limits - only China sends more international students overseas.

India has the 2nd largest population of higher education students, and is predicted to pass China within the next 10 years, with an estimated 119 million college aged students by 2025. Already over 50% of the country's population is under the age of 25, making India home to one of the world's youngest populations.

Indian students tend to look for recognition on a global level to give them a competitive edge over the huge number of peers that they will be competing with for jobs. They believe that the best way to find this is through quality education, which is limited within India, but in abundance overseas.

Reasons to Attend

Language schools, colleges, universities, high schools, IT colleges, business schools, hotel schools, postgraduate and MBA programs from more than 40 countries have experienced increased enrollments and brand awareness through the EXPO Roadshows. Student participants are screened through online questionnaires to ensure only the highest quality visitors attend the events. Each attendee's capability and desire to study abroad is assessed, ensuring that invitations are sent only to those who have the genuine intention and the financial means to study abroad.

- High student quality: Student participants are screened through online questionnaires to ensure only the highest quality visitors attend the events.

The fairs are supported by Austrade, DAAD, Campusfrance, Education New Zealand, Education USA, British Council and NUFFIC.

International Education Latin America EXPO Roadshow - Spring 2019

Information

The Latin America EXPO Roadshow offers international education institutions, of any discipline and from any country, the opportunity to present their courses to thousands of pre-selected and pre-screened students in Colombia's, Panama's and Venezuela's most productive markets during Latin America's leading International Student Recruitment Fairs.

Reasons to Attend

As the 3rd largest student market in Latin America, Colombia is a highlight on the EXPO Roadshow schedule and Panama, Ecuador, Peru and Chile have been on the exhibition calendars for the last six years.

Language schools, colleges, universities, high schools, IT colleges, business schools, hotel schools, postgraduate and MBA programs from more than 40 countries have experienced increased enrollments and brand awareness through these recruitment events.

Market Overview

As a region, Latin America is seeing an unprecedented number of student recruiters heading its way. Increased levels of English proficiency and higher per capita incomes have cemented this region as an attractive market to recruit international students.

Panama is a fast growing hub for trade, business, finance and logistics, owing to its location between two continents. Panama is also home to the two busiest ports in Latin America, and Tocumen International airport is the most connected airport in Latin America. Panama City has a population of 1.5 million people, and is considered to be the most cosmopolitan capital in Central America. The city is a regional hub of trade and immigration, bridging the gap between North and South America.

Colombia sends over 25,000 students abroad for higher education each year. This number has increased by 50% over the last decade. Within Colombia, tertiary enrolments have grown even faster, with the number of students enrolling more than doubling from 2003 to 2013 to over two million. The government's plan requirement that half of all young people continue their studies or training after high school is well on-track. Bogota is the largest and most populous city in Colombia, and the fourth largest in South America with a population of over 7 million. Bogota holds more schools, colleges and universities than any other city in Colombia, and has high academic levels to reflect this. It has transformed from a city famous for its issues in the past to a model metropolis.

With almost 3 million citizens, Cali is the second largest city in Colombia. Cali has one of the fastest growing economies in the country, and is the main urban and economic centre in South West Colombia.

The city of Medellin, with a population of over 3.5 million, has been rated as the most innovative city in the world, winning awards for its transit system. Budget alterations have made education more widely available across the city.

Ecuador is one of the smallest countries in South America with a population of around 13 million, of which 11,000 students continue their higher education abroad each year. The real GDP growth is both stable and strong when compared with the rest of Latin America, at around 4%.

Quito is the capital city of Ecuador and the second most populous. Quito is a cosmopolitan city of great cultural diversity, with one of the best-preserved, least altered historic centres in Latin America.

Peru is historically one of the fastest growing economies in Latin America. With a population of over 30 million, Peru is in a state of fast development. Changes to the education sector within the country have created uncertainty, but this has opened the door to international educators.

Lima is the capital city of Peru with a population of approximately 10 million. Home to one-third of Peru's population, Lima is the political, cultural and economic centre of the country. There are several excellent international schools in the city, which follow the standard of a US and European curriculum.

Chile is home to a stable political environment and a growing economy. Almost 10,000 students head overseas for their tertiary education per year, and this is likely to continue to grow as the population of students in domestic secondary and tertiary education increases.

Santiago is the 5th largest city in Latin America, and one of the most modern cities on the continent, with a population of approximately 5 million. Santiago is home to Universidad de Chile, which ranks as 4th of all public universities in Latin America.
